

Curriculum vitae e studiorum Prof. Zeno Varanini

University of Verona
Department of Biotechnology
Strada le Grazie 15, 37134 Verona
phone 045 8027830
fax 0458027925
e-mail zeno.varanini@univr.it
<http://www.dbt.univr.it/?ent=persona&id=3775&lang=it>

1978: Degree in Agriculture at the University of Padua (110/110).

1983-87: Research assistant at the Dept of Agricultural Chemistry in the University of Padua.

1986-87: CNR scholarship at the Institut fur Botanik (T.H. Darmstadt, Prof. Ulrich Luttge).

1987-90: Associate professor of Agricultural Chemistry at the Tuscia University, Viterbo, 1990-2001: Associate professor of Agricultural Chemistry at the University of Udine.

2001-06: Full professor of Agricultural Chemistry at the University of Udine.

2006-to date: Full professor of Agricultural Chemistry at the University of Verona.

The expertise of prof. Zeno Varanini ranges from the agronomic and agrochemical aspects of soil-plant interaction to the molecular ones. Studies have been performed on the mechanisms of N, P and Fe nutrition also in relation to the behaviour of nutrients at the rhizosphere. Since 1998 he led 6 national research projects (Italian MIUR). He published more than 80 papers (articles and book chapter) for an H index of 23.