

Since 40 years works on Reliability and Failure Analysis of semiconductor devices, first in industry and, since 1992, at the University of Cagliari, where he teaches the courses of Electron Devices for the bachelor degree and Photonics for the Master Degree.

In the past 15 years he opened a specific activity on Failure Physics of Photonic Devices, with particular emphasis for Space-oriented applications.