

Aamer Ali completed his Joint Doctorate in Membrane Engineering from University of Calabria, Italy, University of Paul Sabatier Toulouse, France and Institute of Chemical Technology Prague, Czech Republic in 2015. Currently, he is working as a Postdoctoral Researcher at Institute on Membrane Technology, National Research Council, Italy. Dr. Ali has published more than 15 articles on membrane based desalination in different journals. He has also contributed in 2 book chapters on desalination and wastewater treatment by using membrane technology.