

Carlotta Marianecchi, PhD.

Assistant professor at Faculty of Pharmacy and Medicine, Department of Drug Chemistry and Technologies, “Sapienza” University of Rome. Her research activity is mainly focused on of Pharmaceutical Technology and in particular on: preparation and characterization of phospholipid (liposomes) and non-phospholipid (niosomes) vesicular systems, nanobubbles and nanoemulsions and on their application studies for therapeutic, diagnostic and theranostic approaches. Author of about 60 national and international research papers, 3 patents, 3 book chapters and about 60 oral and poster presentations. Referee for about 10 international journals focused on nanotechnology and drug delivery, member of the Editorial Board of the “World Journal of Respiriology” and of “Recent Patents on Drug Delivery & Formulation”.